Demonstrations Appear To Have Little Effect

By The Associated Press

Dairy farmer pickets appeared outside some dairy plants today as the National Farmers Organization strove to dramatize its 25-state effort to raise producers' prices by withholding milk from the market.

Indianapolis processing plants were targets of some NFO members. Similar picketing occurred in other cities.

US Tanker Splits On Big Reef

Huge Seas Pound Ship, Sending New Oil Onto Beaches

LAND'S END, England (AP) — The giant American tanker Torrey Canyon lay split in two on the Seven Stones reef today, spilling more oil toward the beaches of southwest England that already were being ruined.

Huge seas during the night wrenched the 61,263-ton ship apart almost amidships. The two halves lay about 25 yards apart with the bow at an angle of 40 degrees to the stern section.

The stern appeared to be slipping slowly from the reef into deeper water. The whole of the after section was under water with only a funnel showing.

The forward section lay listing to port, with only the high bows clear of the onrushing waves.

A sea of oil stretched to the horizon toward the Scilly Isles to the west. Near the English coast it broke up into long fingers surrounded by shimmering stretches where the film was thinner.

An armada of fishing boats pushed through the oil patches spraying detergent, trying to spread and sink the oil.

More than 70 miles of coastline, from the Lizard to Newquay, have been polluted by the advancing oil. In places the oil slick is ten inches thick. Gales forecast today threatened to spread the black carpet to most of Britain's south coast.

One expert estimated more than 15,000 gulls, cormorants and other sea birds have died and another 30,000 were trapped, unable to fly because their wings were clogged with oil.

Nature lovers feared that some species may become extinct. A small army of bird lovers was mobilized to save as many as possible from the oil.

Chairman Ousted By New Rulers

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — Sierra Leone's new military rulers fired their chairman today before he had a chance to take the job and chose Lt. Col. A.T. Juxon-Smith instead.

The National Reformation Council of eight young officers cabled their first choice, Lt. Col. Ambrose Genda, to remain at his post with Sierra Leone's U.N. delegation in New York. But Genda, 39, already had reached London on his way home.

As reports reached the British capital that he has been dropped as leader of the new ruling National Reformation Council in Sierra Leone, Col. Genda boarded a plane and continued on his way.

London Airport officials said Col. Juxon-Smith was traveling with Genda as they boarded a British plane for Freetown, where it is due Tuesday.

Killed Entering House

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Police said James Payne, 25, was shot and killed Sunday while trying to enter an East St. Louis home.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Hagerman.

Officials said an inquest would be held in the shooting.

IN A MAN'S WORLD—This unidentified young woman walked a picket line at Tullis-Hall Dairy here Monday morning. Most of the National Farmer's Organization pickets seen in Sedalia Monday were men, but whether male or female, their objective is the same. NFO members are seeking an increase of two cents per quart of milk, and the dumping action and pickets are part of the effort. Local distributors report no appreciable effect from the action so far, however. (Sedalia Democrat-Capital photo)

KC Firemen Hold To Strike Plans

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Seven of Kansas City's 47 fire stations were down to one man today as more fire fighters reported "sick" in a walkout for more money and shorter hours.

Some stations had only two or three men for emergencies and ambulance calls.

"We are in bad shape," reported Fire Chief Herbert J. Hughes.

Officials of the Fire Fighters Union have threatened to have all the men off their jobs by Tuesday morning.

The men began reporting in "sick" Sunday. About 200 of the 850 fire fighters were reported "officially" off duty this morning.

City Manager Carleton F. Sharpe announced the city would file an injunction suit against the firemen, asking that the individual fire fighters be restrained from carrying out an "unlawful work stoppage."

Chief Hughes invoked the city ordinance which prohibits the burning of trash or leaves, to reduce the chances of fires.

Humphrey Tells Group

US Has Nothing For Which To Apologize In Vietnam

GENEVA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey likened the American fighting in Viet Nam today to the U.S. stands in Berlin and Korea and told U.S. representatives in Geneva "we have nothing to apologize for."

Humphrey injected Vietnam and European criticism of U.S. policy in Asia into a 45-minute talk to personnel of the American mission here on the first day of a two-week West European tour.

"This is a peace administration," Humphrey declared, "but a peace with honor administration."

In Viet Nam, Humphrey said, the United States is carrying out three objectives of the U.N. Charter: To suppress aggression, promote self-determination and assist in nation building.

"We have not some pax Americana in mind," he said. "We have no desire to be the world's policeman."

But he contended the United States had a commitment to Vietnam and "if we wish" on commitments "there will be no peace."

Humphrey compared criticism of President Johnson's Southeast Asia policy with attacks on Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman for their efforts to quarantine aggression.

"If you think the situation is tough in Vietnam, remember it was at other times," he said.

He said few supported Truman's conduct of the Korean War and added: "It's a strange thing when the leader is under assault some of the troops evaporate."

Humphrey's pep talk to the mission staff was obviously aimed at countering the constant criticism that Americans read and hear in Europe. He said Americans have a right to ask their allies denouncing the U.S. role in Vietnam; "What is more important here than there?"

Humphrey arrived with an argument that he is expected to carry to other capitals in Europe — the urgent need for a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

Sharp Fighting Is Renewed Between US, Red Soldiers

Election Day Set

Constitution By This Saturday

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's armed forces council decided today to put the country's new constitution into effect on Saturday.

A communique issued after a day-long meeting of the council also announced national elections on Sept. 1 for president, vice president and the Senate. The lower house of the National Assembly will be elected Oct. 1, the communique said.

The brief communique also reported that the council's 46 generals and colonels had voted their confidence that the national leadership committee, the ruling junta, would "maintain stabilization to bring about the democratic organizations."

There was no mention of presidential candidacies of chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu or Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Both are known to be interested in the top position in the elected civilian government.

The council said it would "accept in full the draft constitution by the constituent assembly voted on March 18, 1967, and will promulgate this said constitution on April 1, 1967."

This moves up the constitutional timetable more than a month. It was to have been promulgated by May 3.

It returns South Vietnam to government under a constitution for the first time since the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem on Nov. 1, 1963. Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, nullified virtually all that charter's provisions for representative government and civil liberties.

The new constitution provides for an independent judiciary and a two-house legislature under a modified presidential form of government much like those in South Korea and France.

Informants said the armed forces council needed two votes to approve the constitution as written. Some military leaders feared that it did not provide a sufficiently strong executive branch.

Sources in the U.S. Embassy said Monday that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had urged the Vietnamese leaders not to present a military candidate for president at the same time they approved the constitution to avoid intensifying regional rivalries.

Traffic accidents took 14 lives in Missouri over the weekend.

A 66-year-old Jamesport, Mo. man was killed Saturday night on M6, five miles east of Galatin. The Highway Patrol said

Jewell Jones, 44, also of Independence, was killed Sunday when his station wagon plunged down an embankment on Highway 71 bypass.

Nanford Lewis, 66, Keokuk, Iowa, was killed Sunday when his car skidded off wet pavement and overturned in a ditch five miles east of Lancaster on Route 136. Two of his three passengers were injured, including his wife, 60-year-old Helma Lewis.

US Airmen Shoot Red Jet Out Of Viet Skies

SAIGON (AP) — American airmen smashing deep into North Vietnam shot a Communist MIG17 from the skies Sunday while the ground war erupted with sharp fighting from the 17th Parallel to the Mekong Delta.

One U.S. jet went down over the North, but the pilot was saved. Communist ground gunners in the South downed three American helicopters and badly shot up four more.

A series of Red assaults and mortar barrages in the delta, including one attack on the U.S. airfield near Can Tho, brought out a blazing display of U.S. ground, sea and air power. The guerrilla attacks were met with fire from helicopter gunships, shots from river patrol boats and a rain of bullets from lumbering C47 transports mounting guns that can each spew 6,000 rounds a minute.

The air battle over North Vietnam took place during a strike on the Son Tay Army supply point 23 miles west of Hanoi, the first time the installation has been reported bombed. It contains half a dozen ammunition bunkers and a string of barracks.

A flight of eight Soviet-designed MIGs jumped the U.S. raiders, and an Air Force F105 Thunderchief turned into the marauders and shot one down. It was the 38th MIG kill claimed by U.S. fliers in the war, in contrast to 10 U.S. planes shot down by North Vietnamese pilots.

The Thunderchief that went down over the North was hit by ground fire just above the demilitarized zone, the Air Force said. It was the 497th U.S. plane reported lost over the North. Hanoi radio claimed three U.S. planes were downed Sunday.

The Air Force spokesmen said that despite continuing bad weather, U.S. pilots hit North Vietnam with 98 missions Sunday.

The fighting in the delta centered near Can Tho, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, and was another sign of the mounting war in that vital area, which grows much of the nation's rice and holds most of her people.

Supporting South Vietnamese troops, a flight of helicopters got caught in heavy ground fire in Vinh Long Province. Three were shot down four were badly damaged. Two Americans were killed, two were missing and 12 were wounded. But South Vietnamese headquarters said 142 Viet Cong were killed in the action.

The two young men, officers said Sunday, pleaded inability to afford a radio and said they chose this method of bringing music — from the auto radio — into the home.

Lifting Of Restrictions On Viet Bomb Runs Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee today urged officials to lift bombing restrictions in the Vietnam war. But President Johnson gave his figurative embrace to a senator newly converted to administration war policy.

The critical survey came from the watchdog Senate Defense subcommittee headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., which sent four investigators to South Vietnam last fall for a check with U.S. commanders and combat units.

The panel said the cost of tactical air operations in Vietnam, including restricted bombing of targets in North Vietnam, "has been heavy for the limited gains achieved."

"The air raids over North Vietnam have made it more costly for the North Vietnamese to wage aggression, but it has been through the sacrifice of many American lives and aircraft losses extending into billions of dollars."

But Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., just back from Vietnam, maintained Sunday that the bombing should continue under present circumstances, then said Johnson had praised him for presenting his views

Holiday Is Over For Students

'Love-Ins' And 'Be-Ins' Along With Some Riots

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Youth had its fling over the Easter weekend, mainly at several East and Gulf Coast resorts, to climax their holiday vacations. But it wasn't all rioting and arrests as the mod set staged a West Coast "Love-In" and a Manhattan "Be-In."

Police heaved sighs of relief Sunday as more than 40,000 collegians headed back to classes, leaving some beaches strewn with beer cans and other debris.

At Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the bulk of 30,000 college boys and girls began a mass exodus to various campuses. There were 500 in the young army of revelers arrested for drunkenness, rowdiness, loitering and interfering with police activities from Thursday through Sunday.

Early Sunday, 16 youths were arrested by Fort Lauderdale police after they pelleted officers with firecrackers. A van taking them to jail burst into flames but the driver quickly opened the door and averted serious injury.

The visiting young people at Daytona Beach, Fla., found that local authorities eliminated seaside roistering with a ban on beer-drinking on the beach.

At Biloxi, Miss., an Easter Sunday rain put a damper on the rollicking activities of some 10,000 college students.

"It seems to have taken the cool out of them," a Biloxi policeman said.

Push Car Into House

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — Police in this suburban San Diego County community investigated an anonymous tip that two young men were seen pushing a compact car into the living room of a house, after removing sliding glass doors.

The two young men, officers said Sunday, pleaded inability to afford a radio and said they chose this method of bringing music — from the auto radio — into the home.

Extensive damage resulted to a 1965 Chevrolet sedan about 2:30 p.m. Sunday when it side-swiped the Muddy Creek bridge on North U.S. Highway 65, about five miles north of Sedalia. No injuries were reported in the one-car mishap.

According to the State Highway Patrol, the car was driven by Cleatree Meeks, 40, of Kansas City, who was headed south on the highway. The report indicated Meeks started to pass another car just as the car pulled out to pass a car ahead of it. Meeks applied his brakes and as a result the car went into a skid, struck the west railing and rode the two foot ledge along the rail for some distance, doing extensive damage to the right side of the car. The front end was badly damaged as it struck and the car "hopped up" onto the ledge.

Trooper Charles Pieper of the State Patrol made the investigation, and said the driver reported he was traveling about 65 miles per hour when the accident occurred. Four other people in the vehicle escaped injury.

Bacon's wrecker towed the vehicle to Sedalia.

Slight damage resulted to the front end of one vehicle in a two car accident at 32nd Street and Kentucky Ave., about 10:15 a.m. Sunday. No injuries were reported.

Involved were a 1964 Corvair driven by Ricky Weller, 16, 3131 South Kentucky, and a 1965 Ford coach driven by Raymond Knowles 58, Pilot Grove.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Weller had stopped for a stop sign headed east and Knowles pulled up in back of him. The Weller car apparently rolled back and collided with the front end of the Ford. Slight front end damage resulted to the Ford and it was towed to Parks Service Station by a wrecker from there.

Two cars were in collision in a parking lot at Liberty Park at 9:05 p.m. Saturday. There were no injuries, police said.

Involved were a 1965 Buick, making a left turn on the lot, driven by Shirley A. Yates, 19, 1600 West 11th, and a 1966 Ford, backing on the lot, driven by Carol A. Vaught, 17, 1201 East Ninth, police said.

Accidents

An 18-year-old girl, Linda Root, Route 2, Cole Camp, was severely injured Sunday afternoon while riding a motorcycle on Benton County Highway F, known as the Ball Town road, about four and a half miles from Cole Camp. The machine left the road, and struck a 4-foot embankment. Her brother escaped with minor injuries.

The brother, Frank Root, 15, who was riding with her, reported his sister was riding the Yamaha twin jet for the first time and she turned her head a second and it struck the ditch, then the embankment. Both were thrown from the machine. "She was going about 40 miles per hour," he reported.

Miss Root was wearing a protective helmet which probably saved her from more serious injuries, in spite of the fact she did suffer a skull fracture. She also suffered some abrasions and bruises. Her condition was reported as fair.

The brother received a skinned nose and apparently no other injuries.

They were brought to Sedalia to the Bothwell Hospital in the Fox ambulance of Cole Camp accompanied by Dr. J. L. Watson, who treated both. X-rays were taken of Miss Root to determine the extent of bone injuries.

They are the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Root, of Route 2, Cole Camp.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Weller had stopped for a stop sign headed east and Knowles pulled up in back of him. The Weller car apparently rolled back and collided with the front end of the Ford. Slight front end damage resulted to the Ford and it was towed to Parks Service Station by a wrecker from there.

Two cars were in collision in a parking lot at Liberty Park at 9:05 p.m. Saturday. There were no injuries, police said.

Involved were a 1965 Buick, making a left turn on the lot, driven by Shirley A. Yates, 19, 1600 West 11th, and a 1966 Ford, backing on the lot, driven by Carol A. Vaught, 17, 1201 East Ninth, police said.

Tonys Take Place Among Spectacles

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway rolled out its best red carpet Sunday night to present the Tony awards for theater excellence and take its place among the national spectacles of the motion picture Academy Awards and television's Emmys.

As motion picture and theater star Lauren Bacall put it:

"It's damn well about time." The hour-long 21st annual Tony award presentation, televised nationally from the Schubert Theater by the American Broadcasting Co., was the best show on Broadway Sunday night — all other Broadway theaters were dark for the holiday.

The musical, "Cabaret," and an English play, "The Homecoming," scooped up half of the 16 silver medallions.

Barbara Harris of "The Apple Tree" and Robert Preston of "I Do! I Do!" took the top awards for musical performances and Beryl Reid of "The Killing of Sister George" and Paul Rodgers of "The Homecoming" took medallions as top stars in straight drama.

Tonys for supporting roles went to Joel Grey and Peg Murray, both of "Cabaret"; and to Marian Seldes of "A Delicate Balance" and Ian Holm of "The Homecoming" for supporting dramatic roles.

Other awards to "Cabaret" went to producer Harold Prince, librettist Jose Masteroff, composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb, sharing the medal for the best musical; to Prince for his direction; to Kander and Ebb for the best score; to Patricia Zipprodt for costume design; and Ronald Field, choreography.

"The Homecoming" took the Tony for the year's outstanding drama, shared by author Harold Pinter and producer Alexander H. Cohen, and for direction by Peter Hall.

Peter carpeting was rolled out along midtown Manhattan's 44th Street between the Schubert Theater and Sardi's East, across the street, for each Tony recipient to use in crossing from the theater to the restaurant to meet the press.

Each dutifully recited the watchword of show business award winners:

"I am just so happy and I would like to thank all the people who made this possible..."

But each seemed happy that the Tonys had become a national affair rather than the intimate little gathering that had characterized the presentations for the past 20 years.

"It's a lot better than the Oscar (Academy Award) show," said producer David Merrick, "and we didn't even have erry Lewis. We live on publicity. This is the greatest we can get."

William D. Thieman, Higginsville, attempting to operate a motor vehicle while intoxicated, continued to April 12.

Michael L. Wells, 2428 West First, driving 37 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone, nolle pros by the city attorney.

Earl G. Simpson, California, driving 48 miles an hour in a 40 mile-an-hour zone, forfeited a $10 bond.

Claude J. Stevens, Versailles, driving 47 miles an hour in a 40 mile-an-hour zone, forfeited a $10 bond.

Robert L. Sansbury, Kansas City, driving 47 miles an hour in a 40 mile-an-hour zone, forfeited a $10 bond.

Benny DeMeter, 1801 East Broadway, driving 62 miles an hour in a 40 mile-an-hour zone, forfeited a $20 bond.

James Lee Jolly, Route 1, driving 60 miles an hour in a 40 mile-an-hour zone, continued to April 3.

Foster Green, 412 North Washington, disturbance of the peace, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Charles Taylor, 506 North Missouri, disturbance of the peace, dismissed by the prosecuting witness.

Donald L. Lenau, 1821 South Barrett, careless and imprudent driving, pleaded innocent and the case was nolle pros by the city attorney.

Jesse Kindle, 812 East Sixth, running a red light, forfeited a $5 bond.

Joseph Wesley Copas, Kansas City, driving while intoxicated, continued to April 24.

Peking Incident Worst Against Soviet Diplomats

MOSCOW (AP) — Red Guards raged around a car carrying Soviet diplomats in Peking for 6 1/2 hours Sunday in the worst incident against Russians in the Chinese capital in a month, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

In a dispatch from the Chinese capital, Tass said the demonstration was similar to those that occurred for 18 days outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking beginning Jan. 26. Those demonstrations were sparked by Peking's charges that a group of Chinese students had been manhandled in Moscow.

Tass did not indicate what led to the latest incident, but observers in Moscow suggested it was touched off by the Soviet government's award of honors Saturday to 189 Russians in Peking for their courage and self-control during the January and February troubles.

Moscow radio also reported today that a new wave of political suppression is engulfing Peking, while fears of drought and spring rice crop failure are plaguing China's southern provinces.

Kennedy Is Ready To Take Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is prepared to submit a sworn statement that he is not a candidate for president in 1968 if that becomes necessary to keep his name off any state primary ballot, an aide of the New York Democrat said today.

Kennedy's press secretary, Frank Mankiewicz, made the statement in response to a query about the possible entry of Kennedy's name in the Oregon and Nebraska state presidential primary elections next year.

Oregon election law would also require Kennedy or any other candidate who wants his name withdrawn to swear he does not intend to become a presidential candidate in 1968, and Kennedy will do that if necessary, Mankiewicz said.

Mankiewicz said Kennedy will take the same action if necessary to stay off the ballot in Nebraska next year.

But Kennedy will wait to see if his name is entered on either primary ballot before making withdrawal statements, Mankiewicz said.

Under Oregon and Nebraska election laws, the secretaries of state are required to put on the primary ballot all generally recognized candidates for the presidency.

It is up to the candidates named to withdraw from the running, if they wish, by submitting affidavits stating they are not seeking the presidency. Mankiewicz said Kennedy intends to support President Johnson for re-election in 1968.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: A most unusual thing occurred at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles. I believe it will interest you. A woman drove up in front of the hotel and left a box with the doorman. The note pasted to the box read as follows:

"Dear Sir: Here are the items my son took from the Acapulco Hilton. An embarrassed Mother."

Clipped to her note was a copy of your column which dealt with stealing from hotels under the guise of "souvenir collecting."

The contents of the box contained the following items which would have an approximate value of $300 to $400:

- 2 Silver wine coolers
- 6 silver finger bowls
- 1 14-inch silver service tray
- 3 bread and butter knives
- 3 dinner knives
- 3 forks
- 3 teaspoons
- 2 soup spoons
- 1 ice tong
- 4 drinking glasses
- 2 face towels
- 2 bath towels

As a past president of the California State Hotel and Motel Association, I'm sure I speak for all hotel and motel managers when I say thank you, Ann Landers, for your help. The problem of hotel pilfering is reaching incredible proportions and running into millions of dollars annually.

The fact that at least one young man was influenced by your comments to the extent that he returned the stolen articles, is evidence that some people do listen to you. We are most grateful for your support.

—Robert A. Groves, General Manager, Beverly Hilton.

Dear Mr. Groves: Thank you for your letter. When I was a guest at another well-known Beverly Hills hotel in December, someone stole my diamond earrings. If his mother would return them to the doorman my day would be complete.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 19-year-old girl who has a problem I have never heard of before. I'll bet you have never heard of it either.

I have been looking for a job for six months. Almost every job that interests me requires that I take a physical examination. I just can't bring myself to undress in front of a doctor. I also can't bear the thought of having a doctor put his hands on me.

I realize this is crazy, but I don't know what to do about it. My mother can't understand why I have not landed a job in all this time and I can't tell her. Please help me. — PET-RIFIED

Dear Pet: I assume you mean MALE doctor, so for heaven's sake go to a female doctor and get your physical so you can go to work. Then, use some of your salary for psychiatric help. If you expect to lead a normal life you must conquer your crippling inhibitions about your body.

Simple Credo of a Hero

"I feel very proud—proud I could do my job. I've always tried to do my job. I'm proud to be able to serve."

The mild-mannered Army medic who spoke those words had just received the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Johnson in a recent ceremony on the south lawn of the White House. Before an honor guard representing the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard, he was accorded homage normally reserved for visiting heads of state.

The job that Spec. 6 Lawrence Joel was proud to do was to drag himself in agony among other wounded U.S. soldiers on a blazing Vietnam battlefield for more than 12 hours, binding up their wounds and shouting encouragement as he ignored his own excruciating pain.

And he wouldn't quit until he was ordered to.

Spec. 6 Joel is 39 years old. He is a native of Winston-Salem, N.C., where he once worked on a truck, selling firewood in the city's slums. He is currently stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C. He is a Negro.

There will be those who won't understand why he did what he did. But most Americans will. They know he did it because he is a brave man and a patriot—and proud.

As long as there are men like him in this country, America will stand tall and strong. Thank you, Spec. 6 Joel. We are proud that you are proud.

Not Poor in Logic

A U.S. Senate subcommittee is investigating the government's war on poverty, including a proposal that everyone be guaranteed an income, regardless.

The subcommittee decided to call in representatives of the poor and hear what they thought about this proposal.

A disabled Kentucky miner had this to say:

"A lot of people, if they know they are going to get a certain amount of money, they are not going to work."

It will be interesting to see if proponents of the guaranteed income can come up with a rebuttal anywhere near as brief, succinct and persuasive. Not to say sensible.

THE MILWAUKEE JOURNAL: Unpoetic Computers. — A two-year study has led a group of scientists to the conclusion that computers are not much good at translating languages. The study was made by the automatic language processing advisory committee of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council — a name which itself might benefit from translation.

While allowing that computer produced translations are usually decipherable, they are sometimes misleading, sometimes wrong and seldom very readable. The unedited syntax that pours from the machines often needs a thorough reworking by a good grammarian, which makes the process more expensive than old fashioned human translation.

Besides, there's not much need for computerizing the translation industry, the study found. The supply of human translators is ample and the fees are reasonable ($16 per 1,000 words for one commercial firm).

The report no doubt will be condemned as a backward step by the champions of computerism. But the rest of us will take

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pressure on to Mine Haiphong Harbor

DREW PEARSON
and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Diplomats are worried over the fact that Ho Chi Minh's blunt rejection of President Johnson's peace overture has increased pressure on the President to escalate the war.

Chief pressure comes from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who once again have urged the President to let them close shipping into Haiphong, which they state has been used by the Russians and smaller Communist countries to unload modern artillery and rockets.

In the past the President has countered the joint Chiefs by arguing that he is out to curtail Red Chinese influence in North Vietnam, and that mining Haiphong harbor would only play into Chinese hands and strengthen their influence in Hanoi. The Chinese have been pressuring Ho Chi Minh to continue the war. The Russians have been pressuring him to end it.

The President has been fully aware of the fact that Russian arms were entering Haiphong, and has discussed this with both Foreign Minister Gromyko and Soviet Ambassador Dobrynin. They have argued that if they are to have any influence with the North Vietnamese, Moscow must give military aid. Johnson has gone along with this, and is further convinced that Premier Kosygin, when he met with Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London, did his best to persuade Ho Chi Minh to sit down at the conference table. Johnson was on the transatlantic telephone every day with Wilson, knew all the details of the communications with Hanoi. Actually, Kosygin remained in London an extra day, hoping to get favorable word from Ho. But Chinese influence apparently outweighed Russian influence.

So the Joint Chiefs of Staff are now telling the President that, since his strategy didn't work, they should be permitted to mine Haiphong harbor.

$2,000,000 of Luck
Securities and Exchange investigators are taking a dim view of the latest Wall Street success story on how to make two million dollars in less than 10 minutes. It happened on the day that Schenley, the big liquor company, and P. Lorillard, the big tobacco company, went into a corporate huddle to finalize a long-planned merger.

As the meeting dragged on, Schenley stockholders became nervous that a snag had developed and there would be no merger. The New York Stock exchange, though aware that the negotiations had not broken down, did nothing to head off the rumor. Sell orders began to pour in until the Exchange ordered a halt in the trading.

But minutes before the close of business, the market was opened again to Schenley transactions. By this time, the pile-up of sell orders had knocked the stock down eight points and Glen Alden Corporation quickly moved in and purchased 200,000 shares at the low price.

Next morning, when the financial world learned that the Schenley-Lorillard merger was still in the works, the stock bounced back up. Glen Alden sold out for a cool $2,100,000 profit. It took less than 10 minutes of trading time for the company to pull off this profit.

The SEC would now like to know why the Stock Exchange opened the trading for a few minutes before closing time and did nothing to scotch the false rumormongers. SEC investigators would also like to know whether Glen Alden had inside information or merely had two million dollars worth of luck.

Three Red Guards
Three Chinese Red Guards, once favorable to Mao Tse-Tung, have escaped from their units and turned up in Formosa. They are Wong Chao, Tien, Chou Pai-Yuan and Dze Shen-Peng.

They first began to question Chinese propaganda which criticized American automobile accidents. How, they asked, could America have so many accidents unless America also had many automobiles? They could see there weren't enough cars in China to have many accidents.

They also read in their newspapers excerpts from western papers criticizing their own governments. It struck them that if the press was free to challenge the policies of the governments then those countries must be more Democratic than China.

One escapee, Chou Pai-Yuan, hasn't found the free world entirely to his liking. Women's skirts are too short and the movies too sexy. And he thinks it's wrong for the people to waste so much food.

However his friend Sze doesn't mind the short skirts at all and would rather see the sexy movies than the dull propaganda films produced by the Red Chinese. He also prefers to live in a society that wastes food than in a society where people go hungry.

Mishmash On One-Man, One-Vote Ruling

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just two more states and there will be a mishmash unlike anything in 180 years.

Thirty-two state legislatures, just two short of a required two-thirds, have asked Congress to call a constitutional convention on the one man-one vote decision of the Supreme Court.

This would be the first such convention since 1787 if those other two states acted and Congress agreed. There's doubt it would. For how Congress would agree, or just getting to do it, is all a big fuzz now.

In 1964 the court held that districts in both houses of state legislatures must be "substantially" equal in population. Only a few states met that standard then. The courts have ordered the rest to get in line.

Under the court's thinking rural areas had long held more legislative seats than they were entitled to in proportion to the number held by the more densely populated cities. This became known as the one man-one vote decision.

It encountered furious objections which, although one state after another has reapportioned its legislature, haven't disappeared. One of the most vocal objectors was, and is, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

This leader of the Senate Republicans tried twice, in 1965 and 1966, to get the Senate to approve a constitutional amendment undoing the court's ruling. Each time he lost by seven votes.

His amendment would let the people in a state decide whether they wanted to apportion one branch of their legislature on some basis besides population. This didn't work and something else was tried by the states themselves.

Although the court's decision wasn't made until 1964, it indicated what was coming as early as 1962 when it said legislatures' districts were subject to scrutiny by the federal courts. States took the hint.

In 1963 some of them began petitioning Congress for the constitutional convention. The real petition rush began after the 1964 action. Until now 32 states have asked for the convention. They could take this road to circumvent the court because of Article 5 in the Constitution.

It says two things:

1. Congress by a two-thirds vote of each house can propose a constitutional amendment which then must be approved by three-fourths of the states. All 25 amendments have been added that way.

2. Or, two-thirds of the states can ask Congress to call a convention to propose amendments which also would have to be approved by three-fourths of the states, either by their legislatures or by conventions in those states, with Congress deciding which it should be.

While Dirksen and others have labored for such state action, they have plenty of opponents, including Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who announced last week that 26 of the 32 legislatures which have asked for a convention were illegally apportioned when they did the asking. In most cases since then, he said, the courts have ordered them to reapportion themselves and "in most cases they have."

He said for Congress to heed the petitions of 26 illegally apportioned legislatures would be like "permitting all Democrats to have two votes in a referendum to determine whether Democrats should have two votes."

Here Proxmire was offering one reason for Congress to ignore the petitions. Confusion seems unlimited in other questions and objections raised. Even if Congress tried to vote approval for a convention, fierce filibusters almost certainly would seek to block it.

Time, one argument goes, has outdated some of the petitions because they were made by some state legislatures no longer in existence and were addressed to the 89th Congress. It's the 90th doing business now.

And, if the convention were called, would it be limited to the one man-one vote problem, or could it consider any kind of amendment? If the latter, then the convention might become a nightmare. And how would such a convention be organized? How many delegates would each state have? Congress would have to decide.

Jim: "How about discussing opening leads this week?"

Oswald: "Fine. There are two parts to every opening lead problem. You have to choose the suit and then the card in the suit. In addition, your lead should take into account the final contract and all bids made on the way."

Jim: "There are certain general rules. We have the old fourth best of your longest and strongest suit as a lead against no-trump."

Oswald: "Today's hand shows that the lead at its best. West opens his fourth best spade. Declarer wins. Declarer wins a cheap trick but he has to go after dummy's diamond suit. The diamond finesse loses and East returns a spade to give West four spade tricks."

Jim: "West could have obtained the same result if he had opened any one of three small spades. The reason you lead fourth best when you do lead a small card is to give your partner a count later on. Of course you also help declarer but, in general, the defense gains more by giving information than it loses."

Oswald: "This fourth best rule has the merit of being generally understood in all bridge circles. Still, there is no need to follow it religiously. If you want to open a fifth best or even a third best on occasion you will worry declarer. Just make sure that you don't worry your partner a lot more."

Jim: "This low spade lead was automatic this time. On the other hand if the contract were six no-trump it might well be best strategy to lead some other suit and wait for two spade tricks."

Oswald: "Or, if you did open a spade against six no-trump, you might lead the ace. You would be trying for two spade tricks, not four."

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Congressional Plan Shifts
Outstate Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY — Outstate Missouri would be shifted around in major proportions under a much worked-over congressional reapportionment bill which was reported out of Sen. Omer Avery's reapportionment committee last week.

Senate Majority Leader William B. Waters (D-Liberty) said the bill would be given top priority after the Legislature's Easter vacation, which began last Thursday for the Senate.

Under the proposal, the Eighth District undergoes greatest realignment, losing seven counties and gaining three St. Louis townships — those of Bonhomme, Lemay and Meramec—and Howard and Osage counties.

This district, now represented by Rep. Richard H. Ichord (D-Houston), would lose the counties of Boone, Shannon, Reynolds, Carter, Iron, Madison and Saline.

Under the committee proposal, which is a revised version of Sen. Avery's original reapportionment bill, the Fourth District would be composed of Wards 15 and 24 in Kansas City and the following townships in Jackson County: Washington, Blue, Brookings, Fort Osage, Van Buren, Prairie and Sni-A-Bar; and the following counties: Bates, Cass, Vernon, Henry, Johnson, Lafayette, Saline, St. Clair, Carroll, Chariton and Pettis.

The Tenth District would be comprised of the counties of Howell, Shannon, Reynolds, Iron, St. Francois, Ste. Genevieve, Perry, Cape Girardeau, Madison, Wayne, Carter, Oregon, Ripley, Butler, Bollinger, Stoddard, Scott, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot and Dunklin.

The Ninth District would be comprised by the counties of Schuyler, Scotland, Clark, Knox, Lewis, Shelby, Marion, Randolph, Monroe, Ralls, Audrain, Pike, Callaway, Boone, Montgomery, Lincoln, Warren, Gasconade, Franklin and St. Charles; and the following townships in St. Louis County: Spanish Lake and Florissant.

The Sixth District would be comprised by the counties of Atchison, Holt, Nodaway, Andrew, Buchanan, Platte, Worth, Gentry, DeKalb, Clinton, Clay, Harrison, Davies, Caldwell, Mercer, Grundy, Livingston, Linn, Ray, Putnam, Sullivan, Macon and Adair.

The Seventh District would be comprised of the following counties: Benton, Barton, Jasper, Newton, McDonald, Cedar, Dade, Lawrence, Barry, Polk, Greene, Christian, Stone, Taney, Dallas, Webster, Douglas, Ozark, Wright and Hickory.

The revised plan would allow Sen. Earl Blackwell (D-Hillsboro) to run against Rep. Ichord, as he said he would like to, and would open up a wider area of contenders for the Tenth District seat, when Rep. Paul Jones retires after this term.

Tentative Approval Given To State Fair Fund Bill
The House has given tentative approval to a bill which would allow admission charges to the Missouri State Fair to be raised to one dollar — rather than the present maximum of 50 cents.

In an effort to bring the State Fair out of past financial difficulties, the bill also would allow the Commissioner of Agriculture to rent the State Fair buildings and grounds for other uses when the fair is not being held.

Formerly these buildings have had to remain idle nearly 11 months out of the year with no revenue coming from them.

Bill Would Require 'Tarping' Truck Loads

How often have you been driving down the highway when a rock has fallen from a gravel truck in front of you, cracking or chipping your windshield?

The Missouri House is seeking to remedy this and similar situations and has given tentative approval to a bill which would require trucks and trailers to cover any loads which might blow off the vehicle.

It also would make it a misdemeanor to violate the provisions of the bill.

Bill Makes Arson In Forests A Felony

Conservationists and sportsmen alike have lauded the passage by the Missouri House of Representatives of a bill which would make it a felony to willfully start a forest fire.

With the increase of the timber industry in Missouri, the destruction of such forests can amount to several thousands of dollars in damages, let alone the loss of animal life and refuge.

The former penalty was only a misdemeanor. The current bill, if passed by the Senate, would provide for a 90-day to one-year sentence in a county jail, or from two to five years in a state prison.

Bill Would Allow Elderly To Live With Relatives

The Missouri House has given tentative approval to and is expected to pass a bill which would allow elderly citizens, over 65 and receiving pension benefits from the state, to live with their relatives — making their present income the only basis for determining the amount of pension payments.

This bill would apply to those receiving state benefits who are incapacitated from working.

Missourians On Board

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Association for Pastoral Renewal, a group seeking a change in Canon Law to permit Roman Catholic priests to marry added two Missouri men to its advisory board.

They are Dr. Thomas Neill, a professor of church history at St. Louis University and Roderick Hindery, vice rector of Immaculate Conception Seminary in Conception, Mo.

Both men have expressed the desire to see the possibility of the abandonment of celibacy investigated. Hindery said he believed celibacy grew from an "unwholesome" attitude toward marriage and predicted a change in time.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The educational level of the entire population in the United States continues to rise, says The World Almanac. In 1966, 50 per cent of all Americans 25 years old or over had completed at least four years of high school. Approximately 10 per cent of the same group had completed four or more years of college. In 1947, the comparable figures were 33 per cent for high school and 5 per cent for college.

Pork Drive

Interest has continued to mount in the newly organized Pettis County Pork Producer's Association. Monday night was membership organizational night for township workers. Plans were completed to contact major pork producers in each township this week and make reports at meeting this Friday night, March 31, at the Extension Office. All new members are urged to attend for the election of a board member from each township and a county delegate to represent Pettis County on the State Swine Council.

Best Permanent Pasture Mix

Tall fescue, orchard grass and bromegrass have been the most productive permanent grass, while alfalfa, ladino clover, lespedeza and birdsfoot trefoil have been the best producing legumes.

Soil conditions, adaptability of species to a given soil, the type of livestock to be grazed, the livestock management planned and the pastures you already have are all factors in deciding which mixture is best.

An MU Guide titled "Seeding Rates for Field Crops and Pasture Mixtures" and "The Missouri Livestock - Forage Manual" both give information which may help you decide the mixture you will use. These are available at the County University Extension Center.

Handling Swine Manure

Swine herdsman have asked how well the new aeration process of handling swine manure is working out.

MU Extension Agricultural Engineers report considerable experimental work is being done throughout the United States and that MU plans to begin such a program this summer.

There is one major problem connected with lagoons and that is odor. The best method to beat this problem is oxidation of the liquid wastes. Successful experiments have been conducted in Europe along this line.

The system consists of an electrically powered paddle wheel which beats air into the liquid. The wheel forces it around a circular concrete trench at a speed of about one foot per second. About 90 per cent of the solids are broken down by this oxidation process. The remaining liquid is then drained to an oxidation lagoon. This eradicates almost all odors.

Such installations should be planned very carefully before installation, and the assistance of an agricultural engineer should be secured in planning such a system.

Oats For a Nurse Crop

Farmers with spring-sown alfalfa or alfalfa-grass mixtures are asking under what conditions they might sow oats as a nurse crop.

The oats should be grazed off to give a better chance to the young seedlings. If hay is needed badly the oats can be cut for hay, but should be cut early, not later than the early milk stage.

Steep slopes that would likely have considerable soil washing will benefit from having oats used as a nurse crop.

Remember that the oats will be holding back growth of the grass and legume seedlings, even though this effect may be balanced off some by the fact that they also hold back early weed growth.

Thickening Grass Stands

It seems that every spring there are a number of farmers who find that their grass stands are a little thin. Some of these farmers are asking if a legume can be added to increase the stand, and which legume should be used?

Lespedeza and ladino clover are the only two legumes that one usually gets satisfactory results from by top seeding on an established stand of grass.

Ladino will need a higher level of mineral fertility than lespedeza to survive.

Spreading Problem With Multi-Flora Rose

Multiflora rose has been used in the past for fencing, but has a disadvantage because it spreads so rapidly.

The plant does not normally create such a problem when it is in cultivated land or in pastures that are mowed and managed properly.

If its growth in fence rows and on idle land is objectionable it can create problems.

One or more applications of 2-4-5-T spray will usually control it. One or two tablespoonsful of granular-form Tordon applied on and around the root crown of multiflora rose is also effective. Tordon is sometimes hard to find on the market, though.

Hog Inventory Up Ten Percent

All hogs and pigs on Missouri farms totaled 3,650,000 head on March 1, 1967 — ten per cent above a year earlier. The total included 657,000 breeding hogs and 2,993,000 other hogs compared with 630,000 breeding and 2,688,000 other hogs on March 1, 1966.

Kite Kitten Known As A Sensation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In 1952 Benjamin Franklin flew a kite in a thunderstorm and nearly got struck by lightning. In 1967 Liz Orr flies a kite in the Florida sunshine and the effect is also electric.

For Liz is a 25-year-old blonde who wears a tiny purple bikini and works on the white sand beaches.

She's a professional kite flier. Guests at the Fontainebleau Hotel's cabanas, usually mesmerized by the subtropical sun, snap to life when Liz bounces out with her bundle of hawk-shaped dueling kites. The males pay close attention as she demonstrates how to unfurl and rig the kites into flying shape.

Reason For Going Back To Bataan

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — "One man is going to try and find the doctor who nursed him to health when he was a prisoner of war. A mother is going with us to try to find the grave of her son."

Those and 298 other very personal reasons are why 300 members of the American Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor and their families are going back to the Philippines on the 25th anniversary of the fall of fortresses in the early days of World War II, says Arthur A. Bressi, national commander of the group.

Early next month, he and 299 members of his organization, and their families, will visit the islands for 12 days. Members of the organization were part of the American garrison that was stationed in the Philippines just before the war broke out, and who valiantly attempted to stop the Japanese from overrunning the islands.

Most of the group, like Bressi, were captured by the Japanese and interned in prison camps. Bressi said the trip would be made in three chartered air planes. One of the planes leaves from New York on April 5, the second from Chicago on April 3, and the third from San Francisco on April 1.

The veterans will lay wreaths at the U.S. military cemetery, visit the sites of the prison camps, and Bataan and Corregidor, and help dedicate a 150-foot cross on Mt. Sumat that honors the soldiers who died at Bataan.

"This is our first trip back as a group, and I guess each of us has a different reason for

Liz, a 5-foot-4 115-pound native of St. Louis, got her job a month ago through a want ad. She graduated from college with a teacher's degree, but has never been before a classroom. She spent six months as an airline stewardess, but "I didn't like being a flying waitress."

Liz said she may fly kites indefinitely. "I'm just going along with the current."

Business and Government Share Same Obligations

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Having returned to corporate life after two years as secretary of commerce, John T. Connor says he is now "an apostle of the creed that it is essential for government and business to work together."

Connor believes both share the same obligation to the public: They must satisfy it. And, as industry becomes more exposed to possible regulation and control, it must recognize that politics is part of the style of the times.

The day is here, Connor said in an interview, "when each industry must have an appropriate representation in Washington, perhaps in the form of a trade organization, with knowledge of how Congress works."

Connor expressed his views less than two months after leaving government to become president of Allied Chemical Corp. It is his second corporate presidency. The first was with Merck & Co., a pharmaceutical firm.

Now, high in a skyscraper office, Connor reports that his Washington experience "broadened my horizons immeasurably."

"Quite a few industries are not alert to the age," he found. "Politics is life, a reflection of going," said Bressi during an interview at his home in nearby Mechanicsburg.

Bressi, who retired from the Army as a captain after 21 years of service and now works at the New Cumberland Army Depot, said none of the men will forget their prison camp experience.

"It created a real bond of friendship that has remained through the years," he said.

"When a man got sick in the camp, you cared for him and helped him do his work. We depended on each other."

problems as they develop, by observing, listening and understanding what goes on in Washington, then attempting to reflect this knowledge in corporate policy.

As Connor analyzes the business-government climate after viewing both sides at the highest levels, a new kind of corporate responsibility is demanded.

There is no question whatever, he said, that "you must identify with the public interest. It is simply good business to identify the corporate interest with the public interest."

To illustrate, the former commerce secretary chose the automotive industry — he has been

As Connor views it, many of the problems that now trouble several American industries, the automotive industry included, were isolated and minor when they first arrived in Washington as complaints.

Oklahoma, Kansas Stand Out

Big Eight Track Men Off To An Impressive Start

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Led by Oklahoma's talented sprinters and the Kansas middle distance stable, Big Eight track athletes are off to an impressive opening of the outdoor season, with marks in seven events ranking among the league's all-time top 10 individuals or teams.

Big Eight teams are primed for a top performance at the Texas Relays this Friday and Saturday. Records and gold medals will be the goals for Jim Ryun-anchored Kansas relay teams and OU teams anchored by sprinter Glen Long and quarter-miler Bill Calhoun.

Three men who made the top 10 list—Ryun, Missouri's Steve Herndon and Oklahoma State's Miles Lister—were already on the list in their events with better marks in their careers.

Herndon set an Arkansas Relays mark of 6-11 compared to his career best of 7-13 in the high jump, best in league history. Lister's 176-4 javelin throw at the same meet is just under his career best of 177-0, which made him the No. 5 man in that event in Big Eight annuals.

Ryun's 1:48.1 half mile against UCLA's defending NCAA champs at Los Angeles Coliseum compares with his pending 1:44.9 world mark, but it came on the heels of his 4:05.1 mile at the same meet.

Nebraska's Dave Kudron ran a career best of 14.1 in the high hurdles, placing him in a tie for the 8th best man in that event. Oklahoma James Hardwick ran a 52.0 in the 440 hurdles at Norman last week. Only six men in conference history have done better.

Oklahoma's 40.5 school record 440 relay at Arizona State is No. 4 on the list. OU's blazing 3:10 mile relay is No. 6 and best ever at this stage of the season.

No Big Eight school has ever produced a 40.5 and a 3:10 the same day. OU coach J.D. Martin says the Sooners are shooting for 3:07 flat.

In the 17 events in the Big Eight outdoor championship meet, the first week finds either Kansas or Oklahoma—or both—leading in 12.

Kansas lost to UCLA 88-55, a better showing than expected, as Ben Olson won the 100 in 9.6 and the 220 in 21.2. Tom Yergovich took the two-mile in 9:01.4. Gary Ard, long jump in 24-11 1/4, and the Kansas mile team won in 3:10.9. Kansas ran second with a 40.9 440 relay.

Two Horse Co-Favorites For Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reflected Glory, pride of the Hirsch Jacobs Stable, and Damascus, beaten only once in six career starts, today rate as co-favorites for the May 6 running of the Kentucky Derby.

But Reflected Glory, quoted at 5-1 in the future books' opening line after a convincing triumph in the Flamingo at Hialeah Park, could change all of that Saturday in the 1 1/4 miles Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

Damascus, rated no better than 12-1 in the opening line, moved in on the Jacobs-trained 3-year-old last Saturday by posting a convincing victory in the $28,600 Bay Shore at Aqueduct for his second success of the year and his fifth after losing his first race as a 2-year-old.

Reflected Glory, a come-from-behind type, didn't even figure in the 2-year-old ratings of 1966. Damascus picked up many backers after beating the Jacobs colt in the one-mile of the Remsen in his final start of a light campaign.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker lost no time last Saturday telling all who would listen that Damascus was his Derby mount. That was when the Frank Whitely-trained horse whipped Aqueduct's mud, the fleet Disciplinarian and Solo Landing, the odds-on favorite who was working on a string of five straight victories.

The paths of Reflected Glory, a son of Jester, and Damascus, an offspring of Sword Dancer, who ran second in the 1959 Kentucky Derby, are not likely to cross until the 1 1/4-mile run for the roses. After the Florida Derby, Reflected Glory is expected to head for Kentucky with his final prep in the Blue Grass at Keeneland April 27.

Damascus was back at his Laurel, Md., barn today with the one-mile of the Gotham on April 15 at Aqueduct his next scheduled start. He's likely to wind up his Derby preparations in the 1 1/4 miles of the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct April 22.

Meantime, Reflected Glory faces no easy task in the Florida Derby. He'll take on among others, In Reality, runner-up in the Flamingo and winner of the Foundation of Youth, and Great Power, whom trainer Eddie Neely confidently expects to show improvement after disappointing in the Fountain of Youth.

OU's Glen Long won in 9.6, ran second to a 21.1 and Calhoun ran second to a 47.4. Arizona State scored 93 to OU's 66.

Kudron won both hurdles and the Husker 440 team ran 40.9 but New Mexico outscored NU 94-60, as the injury loss of Charlie Greene hurt.

Missouri dominated the Arkansas Relays with six firsts in the rain, while OSU, K-State and Iowa State each won one gold medal. K-State's winner was Harry Kitchener in the triple jump. Iowa State won the 880 relay.

15th Safari Is Won By Tanzanians

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The gruelling 3,000-mile 15th East African Safari was won today by a Peugeot fuel-injection 404 driven by Tanzanians Bert Shankland and Christopher Rothwell, last year's winners.

They roared to the finish at Jamhuri Park here at about 7 a.m. with only 59 points lost in the hectic four-day marathon into both Tanzania and Uganda.

They promptly announced next year they would attempt the hat trick. If successful, they will be the first to win the Safari three times.

Only 10 points behind on the scorecard and almost certain to be second — though they arrived at the finish a few minutes ahead in the last lap — were Nairobi Rally aces Vic Preston and Robert Gerrish in a Ford Lotus Cortina.

Third was another Kenyan team, Peter Hughes and Robert Syder, in a Ford Cortina GT, with only 84 points lost. The lead cars are now with the scrutineers for a final check before the placings are officially confirmed.

Want To Train Away From St. Louis Home

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Stars of the National Professional Soccer League want to leave St. Louis — but only for spring training. The club announced Sunday it will move to Phoenix, Ariz., Tuesday.

The full team will not make the trip according to Manager-Coach Rudi Gutendorf. Jamaican members will remain in St. Louis. "They had one problem here early in getting adjusted to the climate in St. Louis," he said.

Gutendorf pointed out that by moving to Arizona the team would be able to scrimmage against the Chicago Spurs.

The Stars open their regular season against the Spurs in Chicago, April 16.

Brewer Thinks He Can Win 'Masters'

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I think I can win the Masters — that's the one I really want,"

Gay Brewer said today after making a travesty of par in winning his second straight Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

"I'm playing well. I feel I have a good chance at Augusta. I'm going all out for it."

Winning the Masters holds a special allure for the 35-year-old veteran from Middletown, Ohio, just as repeating in Pensacola enabled him to prove something to himself and others.

Last year Brewer backed into the Pensacola crown when the popular Doug Sanders, leading by four strokes, was disqualified after the third round for failing to sign his score card.

"Nobody spots me four strokes and beats me," a disgruntled Sanders remarked bitterly afterward — a comment

Trouble Costs Golfer Hong Kong Open Title

HONG KONG (AP) — A troublesome putter cost England's Brian Huggett the Hong Kong Open golf title Sunday and gave Peter Thomson of Australia the victory in the $12,000 tournament.

Thomson and Huggett were tied at 273 after the regulation 72 holes and went into a sudden death round. Both parred the 400-yard par 4 first hole.

Then, after his drive fell 35 feet from the cup on the par-3 179-yard second hole, Huggett ran into trouble. His first putt was two feet short and his next missed by two inches.

Thomson meanwhile, drove into the right bunker, chipped to within 10 feet and then putted out for his par and the victory.

McDowell Comes Along Very Strong

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The verdict on Sam McDowell may not be final for a couple of months yet, but the Chicago Cubs think they see the jury coming in.

McDowell, of course, is the fireballing Cleveland left-hander who was supposed to make everybody forget about Sandy Koufax. He ran into arm trouble last year and had a mediocre season.

But Sunday, with the opening of the major-league baseball season just a little more than two weeks away, McDowell went six innings against the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz., and gave up not so much as a single hit.

The Indians had a little trouble scoring themselves, but finally pushed across three unearned runs in the eighth inning and added another in the ninth, then withstood a Chicago challenge and won 4-3.

In all, Sudden Sam struck out six and walked one in the Cleveland triumph. The Cubs' runs all came in the ninth, two of them on Ron Santo's two run homer in his first appearance since being spiked on March 17.

In other exhibition games Sunday, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 3-1, Kansas City edged Houston 5-4, California blanked San Francisco 5-0, Philadelphia outslug Atlanta 10-9, the New York Yankees bounced Cincinnati 9-3, Pittsburgh and Washington tied 5-5 in 15 innings, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota blasted Boston 7-1 and St. Louis beat Detroit 6-2.

Cleveland's Dick Radatz set the Cubs down without a hit in the seventh, but Jim Stewart broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out pinch single off Vince Romano.

Dave Johnson knocked in two runs for the Orioles with a double and two singles in the victory over the Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla. Dave Duncan drove in two runs, one on a homer, for Kansas City as the Astros fell at Cocoa, Fla.

George Brunet set San Francisco down on two hits in six innings in the Angels' triumph at Palm Springs, Calif. Tom Satriano had three hits and two runs batted in for California.

Two balks by Charlie Vaughan sent in the tying and winning runs for Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla. The Phillies blew a 7-2 lead before coming back for the victory.

Horace Clarke had four runs batted in and four hits for the Yankees at Tampa, Fla., and Lou Clinton homered for the Yanks. Whitey Ford was the winning pitcher.

The Senators-Pirates game was called off at Pompano Beach, Fla., after four hours and 15 minutes because of darkness. Frank Howard had three runs batted in for the Senators and Matty Alou and Maury Wills each had four Pittsburgh hits.

Tom McCraw's single with the bases loaded in the 10th gave the White Sox their win at St. Petersburg, Fla. Ron Swoboda and Jerry Grote homered for the Mets.

Jim Kaat gave up five hits in seven innings in the Minnesota triumph at Orlando, Fla. Rico Petrocelli homered for the lone Sox run.

Ray Washburn doubled in a run and pitched five good innings for the Cardinals at Lakeland, Fla. Jerry Lumpe doubled in both Detroit runs.

In the playoff, Nicklaus won with a 70. Tommy shot a 72 and Brewer skied to a 78.

Brewer, in scoring his first tournament victory since the same tournament a year ago, won $15,000. Keller grabbed $9,000, thanks to a fine trap recovery on the final hole, beating out Sanders, who won third money of $5,625. Keller shot 65 for 268, Sanders 64 for 269.

Then came Ken Still, 71 for 271, followed by a quintet at 272 — young Jim Colbert, George Archer, Bobby Nichols, Dan Sikes and Tommy Jacobs.

Cap Competition

Greene, Killy Are Honored By Skiers

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP) — Canada's Nancy Greene and France's Jean-Claude Killy were toasted by more than 100 of the world's top skiers in this western Wyoming community Sunday night, capping three days of rugged competition for the World Cup of Skiing.

Miss Greene, a part 24-year-old member of the 1964 Canadian Olympic team faced the leader of the World Cup competition 22-year-old Marielle Goitschel of France.

On the men's side, Killy was striving to end his season on a victorious note and follow his giant slalom victory Saturday in the Wild West Classic with a win in the slalom.

Miss Greene had turned back

Marielle in Saturday's giant slalom and needed a 25-point victory in the slalom to win the massive Crystal Cup in its first year.

She answered that challenge finishing second in the first run behind Florence Stourer of France while Miss Goitschel was close behind in third.

But in the second heat, Nancy, known as the Tiger to her teammates, flashed down the 1,250-foot course in 44.51 seconds, which was coupled with her first run time of 46.16 seconds for a 90.67 total.

Miss Goitschel recorded a 46.21 and a 44.53 for a 90.74 seconds total. In third was Miss Steurer with 93.02.

Meanwhile, Killy was having his trouble with the first run on the 72-gate, 1,875-foot course.

The usually wild Frenchman, who had taken his ninth consecutive victory the day before in the giant slalom, abandoned his style for a conservative race and finished sixth in a time of 62.46 while Austrian veteran Karl Schranz was flashing to victory in 60.71.

Killy caught an edge approaching the midpoint on the 67-gate second course for the men and tumbled. He did not finish.

The Americans started badly in the final day of competition. Jimmy Heuga, 23, of Tahoe City, Calif., who consistently pursued Killy in the last three World Cup races, fell during his first run and did not finish.

Big Jim Barrows of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was disqualified during his first run and Harry Ryan of Rutland, Vt., also fell and did not finish. Rick Chaffie, also of Rutland, was disqualified.

Aspen's Bill Marolt, who had a first run time of 68.56, did not start the second race.

But the U.S. picture was brightened when Valdmir (Spider) Sabich of Twin Bridges, Calif., turned the first heat in 64.7 seconds and came through in 65.14 in the second to finish sixth in the final results.

John Clough of Waterville Valley, N.H., and Dennis McCoy of Bishop, Calif., pieced together runs to finish ninth and tenth.

For the U.S. women, Kiki Cutler, of Bend, Ore., finished in the sixth spot and Lee Hall of Westfield, Vt., finished eighth to give the slow starting Yanks two members in the top 10 in that division.

Kathy Whitworth Wins By One Stroke

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, plagued by four bogeys on the back nine, won the $10,000 Venice Open Golf Tournament Sunday by one stroke over Gloria Ehret and Clifford Ann Creed.

Miss Whitworth's 4-over-par 76 final round gave her a 217 total and the $1,500 top prize. Miss Ehret and Miss Creed banked $1,000 each.

Althea Gibson's final round of 68 at the Lake Venice Golf Club course was the low of the tourney.

Key To Giants' Success Between Short and Second

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Key to success or failure for the San Francisco Giants' pennant chances this season lies between shortstop and second base.

If the combination there clicks, it could be a great season and the Giants could finish first or second.

Manager Herman Franks already terms the situation improved both around second base and in the outfield where the fellows flanking Willie Mays struck the ball lightly if at all last year.

Even with ace pitcher Juan Marichal staging his long spring holdout, the Giants figure strong in the hurling department with additional strength possible if Mike McCormick or Ray Sadecki produce from the south-paw side.

"We'll be stronger," forecasts Franks who brought home second place finishers in his prior two seasons at the San Francisco helm.

Mays feels the same way and points to the added bench strength with left-handed hitting Norm Siebern from the California Angels and Billy Sorrell, drafted from San Diego.

Despite the absence of Marichal, who posted a 25-6 record last season and held out for $110,000, the Giants have set a hot pace in the Cactus League exhibition race.

Gaylor Perry, 21-8 in 1966, bids to become the opening day pitcher with a skein of scoreless frames in the desert. Bob Bolin won his right to the No. 3 rotation spot early and a fight continues for the fourth position amid hopes Sadecki or McCormick will win it.

The bullpen has both Lindy McDaniel and Frank Linzy on the right-handed side plus Ron Herbel, who prefers starting.

Hal Lanier holds down second base and this season promises more double plays as he takes a stance nearer the bag. At the plate, he's making an attempt at switch hitting to boost an average which sagged to .231.

Injury-prone Tito Fuentes started the spring at shortstop and promptly hurt an ankle. Cesar Gutierrez, up from the California League, took over and hit three triples in as many games. The Venezuelan infielder could be on the opening day roster or even win the position.

Mays hit 37 homers last year, became the leading right-handed home run hitter in baseball history and slipped to .288 in the average department. He's been hitting the ball sharply in the spring and appears set for another big season at 36.

Jesus Alou, youngest of the baseball playing brothers from the Dominican Republic proved a disappointment last year. He's hit at a .400 clip in the spring. Alou moved to left field with Ollie Brown of the rifle-arm in right.

Willie McCovey and Tom Haller provide left-handed power to go with the right-handed slugging of Mays and third baseman Jim Hart. McCovey belted 36 homers last season, Hart 33 and Haller 27.

KC Central Captures Class L Track Title

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Kansas City Central dethroned Beaumont and won the Class L state indoor high school track championship Saturday for the fourth time in five years.

Central scored 28½ points. Kansas City Paseo second at 22 and Beaumont third with 17.

Six meet records were broken and one was tied. Wilbur Smith made 12 of Paseo's points for individual honors. His 7.5 seconds in the 60-yard high hurdles tied the record. He was second in the low hurdles and third in the broad jump.

Biologists Assemble Live Virus

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Two biologists report they have assembled a live virus more complex than any ever artificially built before.

Dr. Robert Edgar and Dr. William Wood of the California Institute of Technology reported their virus, labeled T4, was built up from parts of incomplete viruses manufactured by bacteria.

They said T4 — which resembles the shape of a hypodermic syringe and is only 1-100,000th of an inch long — can't reproduce itself without help from the bacteria it normally infects.

It reproduces itself by squirting a chemical combination called DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid, into the host bacteria.

DNA, a key part of the virus' nucleus, carries the genes, or molecules that supervise heredity. Injection of the virus' DNA into the bacteria cell destroys the host cell's own DNA and forces the cell to manufacture about 100 new viruses. The host cell then breaks open, releasing the newly found viruses to attack other bacteria host cells.

Edgar reported he found a way to alter the viruses so they cause the host cells to make only unassemble virus parts. This, he said, was accomplished with heat and chemicals that inactivate some of the 100 genes on the virus DNA.

When certain virus genes are made inactive, he explained, the host cells make no virus heads, or they make no tails when certain other genes are made inactive.

But when these incomplete "virus parts are mixed in a test tube, he said, they assemble themselves to become complete viruses capable of reproducing to another host cell.

Edgar and Wood said other researchers have put together simpler viruses, such as the tobacco mosaic virus.

The work of Edgar and Wood was reported in the current issue of "caltech's "Engineering and Science" magazine.

Dynasty For UCLA's John Wooden

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Wooden, coach of UCLA's NCAA national basketball champions, isn't sure what the word dynasty means but he may have one on his hands.

Led by giant Lew Alcindor and tiny Mike Warren, the Bruins wrapped up their third national title in four years Saturday night to cap a perfect 30-0 season.

And with all five starters returning, Wooden won't deny that UCLA may be back to claim the title next year.

"I've never been quite sure what the word dynasty means. I've never looked it up," Wooden said after the Bruins had squashed Dayton's game Flyers 79-64 in the championship game.

"But I do hope we can stay up there and be a power," he said. "We're certainly going to continue trying and I hope we'll be back next year, and the year following, and the year following, and the year following."

"I never want us to do less than we did this year in order to get here," Wooden said.

Wooden denied that a basketball dynasty, at UCLA, if there is to be one, would be harmful to college basketball.

"I'd say the New York Yankee regime wasn't bad for baseball," Wooden said. "I think a winning team should give others incentive to build to the level of the best."

Don Donoher, the Dayton coach, agrees.

"When you see a team like this it makes you want to build toward it," he said.

The Flyers fell behind 20-4 as the game started and never really knew what hit them.

Dayton's biggest scoring threat, Don May hit only three of 12 baskets in the first half and the team hit only 23.8 per cent from the field. May wound up with 21 points but the Flyers team shooting only warmed up to 34 per cent.

Alcindor's mere presence was enough to intimidate Dayton, but he scored 20 points and nabbed 18 rebounds for good measure. Lucius Allen had 19 points and Warren 17.

It was the third straight year in the playoffs for Dayton and the third time it had been eliminated by the No. 1 ranked team. The Flyers finished 25-6 this season.

Guy Lewis, whose Houston Cougars did only what was necessary to defeat North Carolina, 84-62 in the consolation game, also is optimistic about next season.

"We lose two starters, but I think that we can have a team just as good or better next season," Lewis said. "When you wind up your season with a win over the number three ranked team in the country, it's a pretty good indication."

Alcindor's mere presence was enough to intimidate Dayton, but he scored 20 points and nabbed 18 rebounds for good measure. Lucius Allen had 19 points and Warren 17.

Pararescue People Save Downed Men

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Airman 2c. Malcolm C. Hassler is a parachutist, frogman, fireman, medic, mountain climber and survival expert.

The 22-year-old airman from Peoria, Ill., and other pararescuemen like him helped save the lives of 403 downed allied airmen in Vietnam in 1966.

Pararescuemen are the hub of the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service, a division of the military airlift command which has headquarters at Scott Air Force Base in southern Illinois near St. Louis.

These men, who wear maroon berets and train by parachuting into pine trees, go into the jungles and seas to prepare crashed airplane crews for rescue. They administer first aid, fight sharks and hold off the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese soldiers with small arms fire while the rescue is in progress.

At last count, air rescuemen in Vietnam had won 1,800 awards and decorations for work under fire. The 38th Aerospace Rescue Squadron and its 3rd Rescue and Recovery group have received presidential unit citations.

In addition to going down directly to the men who need help, the pararescuemen also operate the hoists used to pluck airmen from calm seas.

For his rescue work Hassler was named military airlift command's outstanding airman for 1967. He is a crew member on a HH-3 Jolly Green Giant helicopter used to recover pilots down in Southeast Asia.

Another pararescueman is 34-year-old Chuck Walther of Parkersburg, W. Va., who recently completed a year's duty at Bien Hoa. During the period he collected 13 medals for courage and professionalism under combat conditions.

Walther said that in Viet Nam it's "hard to tell the good guys from the bad guys. They don't wear white hats and black hats."

Another danger rescuemen must face is exploding shells from burning aircraft. "those 20 millimeter shells cook-off for many hours," Walther said. "When they go, it's just like a hand grenade. At Bien Hoa a fireman standing between two of my pararescuemen was killed by an exploding 20 millimeter."

Capt. John B. Kneen, 31, of Belvidere Center, Ill., pilots a rescue helicopter.

Kneen said every rescue of a downed airman is a race between the Viet Cong and the rescuers to the crash site.

Japanese Boomerangs

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — "I shed tears of blood when I see Japanese boomerangs imported into this country," Bill Onus told the annual conference on aboriginal affairs.

Speaking as president of the Victorian Aborigines Advancement League, Onus said various members of Parliament "seem to feel friendship with the Japanese (in trade) is more important than friendship with the aborigines."

Reach Century Mark With Love, Humor

MANCHESTER, Mo. (AP) — Dr. William Wallace Cherry of Manchester offers this advice on how to reach the century mark: "the love of two fine women," and a sense of humor.

The dentist celebrated his 100th birthday Saturday with his second wife, Mary, to whom he has been married for the past 28 years. His first wife, Catherine died in 1931.

The present Mrs. Cherry laughingly admits her husband still likes the ladies—especially nurses. "He tries to kiss them all," she says.

Quakers Ask For School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Can the teaching flexibility of a private school, the benefits of family participation and support by tax funds be combined to provide high quality public education?

A group of Philadelphia Quakers think so and have asked the Philadelphia school system to let them form a nonprofit corporation to take over one of the city's public schools to try to prove it.

The group's leader, Stephen G. Cary, explained Sunday night in an interview that the group hopes to "lift achievement levels above the very deplorable level at which they are now in (city) schools."

"Also, we hope we can encourage white families who have left the area to come back to send their children to this school because of the very high level of education offered," Cary said.

What might at first sound like a pipe dream is based on some very sound educational principles, said Cary.

He outlined these plans: First, the school would be staffed adequately to avoid the high pupil-to-teacher ratio of many city schools.

Teachers from private schools would be brought in to aid in special subject fields. Curricula would be adjusted to meet pupils' needs rather than some general standard.

Finally, the school would attempt to involve parents in all levels of education instead of having them merely as observers.

While Cary's committee is made up of members of the religious Society of Friends (Quakers), the church-state problem would not be involved, he said, because the corporation formed to operate the proposed model school would be nonsectarian and include non-Quakers.

Recently, he said, Philadelphia's newly appointed superintendent of schools, Mark Shedd, appointed a committee to explore the Quaker proposition.

Costly isn't it?

This is an age when, if you miss a day's work, the Government loses almost as much as you do.

Lawyers Appear On Own Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Remember when lawyers used to do all their performing in courtrooms? Now they're appearing on their own television shows—Melvin Belli—plugging their bestsellers on radio and TV—Louis Nizer—and portraying themselves in movies Lee Bailey.

It is Bailey who concerns us today. The fast-rising star of criminal law came to Hollywood for a news conference to announce that he would star as himself in "The Sheppard Murder Case" for Paramount.

The studio, which dearly loves news conferences, gave this one in a dining room of the studio commissary. About a hundred people were there.

The principal figures of the news conference arrived and sat before microphones at a table with a backdrop of the studio's Alpine trade mark—legend: "It's happening at Paramount."

Robert Evans, the onetime actor who now heads the studio, saluted "the bold and dynamic determination" of attorney Bailey in securing an acquittal for Dr. Samuel Sheppard, the Cleveland Osteopath who had previously been convicted of murdering his wife.

Brad Dexter, the former actor whose career as a producer flourished after he saved Frank Sinatra in the surf at Hawaii, vowed that "The Sheppard Murder Case" would not be an "exploitation picture." Dexter is producing the film, Sidney Furie is directing.

The subject would be "treated on the highest possible dramatic level," said Dexter, who introduced Bailey as "one of the giants today in American law."

Bailey, 33, is of slightly less than medium height, perhaps not tall enough to become a leading man.

The Bostonian began by declaring the whole Sheppard case had been an outrage and the worst miscarriage of justice in 30 years. He added that the average citizen has little protection against conviction if he happens to be a "notorious defendant."

About his own acting, Bailey said he had warned Dexter and Furie that he is no actor and if they wanted a musical-comedy performance "they had better get another boy." He further indicated that he may not be the most agreeable of performers: "I'll study the lines as they are written; then I'll probably forget them and do it my own way."

Bailey was asked about the bar association's attitude toward attorneys portraying themselves in commercial movies. He cited precedents of Joseph Welch's role in a fictional film, "Anatomy of a Murder," and a San Francisco lawyer who made a television documentary.

"I see nothing objectionable," he said, "unless I allowed a flip at the end stating I was available for legal services."

AN ELECTRIC ROCKET engine capable of running off low solar cell voltage is a big step forward in space maneuvering. Power requirements of electric rockets have been a barrier in the past because of their need of high voltages, requiring extra weight in power-conditioning equipment. This engine operates on voltages well within capabilities of solar cells, which get their energy from the sun. It has been successfully tested more than 400 hours at NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio.

Columnist's Mail Says Prison Is Habit-Forming

Tony Awards Given Before TV Audience

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The Broadway theater joined motion pictures and television Sunday night in performing its annual awards-giving rites before a national audience.

The "Tony" was given in fewer categories than in the sister media, but the awkward form of both the Oscar and the Emmy ceremonies was preserved.

The awards ceremony telecast by ABC did have one delightful aspect of its very own—it gave away some free samples of its work to the audience.

We saw production numbers from "Walking Happy" and "Cabaret"—the latter won a bushel of awards—and there was a delightful duet by Mary Martin and Robert Preston of "I Do, I Do." All are hit musicals.

Probably the brightest spot in the weekend entertainment was NBC's "Experiment in Television" on Sunday afternoon. Called "We Interrupt This Season," it was a valiant attempt to satirize television and its curious ways.

An assortment of young people—all apparently newcomers—went to work on commercials—those real live people with headaches and bosses with bad breath—culture, clichés, travel shows. All had points of view but, alas, the points were hardly fresh or new.

There was an amusing lament on the passing of "What's My Line?" and another song based on the medium's unhappy habit of copying a hit series with other series was witty. But sketches on convention coverage and weathermen just didn't come off.

CBS presented much of California's Marineland show for the children on the holiday night. The trained dolphins and whales are always good entertainment, so much so that adding human performers, even
